Mannréttindastefna

Ég hef kynnt mér mannréttindastefnu Reykjavíkurborgar: ✓

Hvernig samræmist verkefnið mannréttindastefnunni?: Our project, Reddingakaffi, aligns with Reykjavík City's Human Rights Policy in multiple ways, reflecting our commitment to fostering a community that upholds the principles of equality, inclusivity, non-discrimination, transparency, data protection, sustainability, community empowerment, and collaboration:

Equal Access: Reddingakaffi is dedicated to ensuring equal access to repair services and knowledge for all members of the Reykjavík community. We do not discriminate based on any characteristics, including age, gender, income, or cultural background, and we actively work to eliminate barriers to participation.

Inclusion: Reddingakaffi serves as a platform for fostering community engagement. We actively encourage diverse members of our community to come together, share their knowledge, and participate in repairing and repurposing items. By doing so, we create an inclusive environment where everyone's contributions are valued.

Non-Discrimination: Our project maintains a strict non-discrimination policy. Discrimination and harassment of any kind are not tolerated at Reddingakaffi events. We are committed to providing a safe and respectful space for all participants.

Transparency: We are dedicated to transparency in our operations. Participants have access to information about the repair processes, the availability of repair resources, and the conditions for using them. This transparency ensures that participants are well-informed and can make informed decisions.

Data Protection: Reddingakaffi prioritizes data protection and privacy. We adhere to the highest standards of data protection laws, safeguarding individuals' privacy and rights in all aspects of our project, including event registration and information sharing.

Sustainability: Our project actively promotes sustainability, in line with Reykjavík City's commitment to environmental responsibility. By encouraging repair and reuse, we contribute to reducing waste and the overall environmental impact of resource consumption within our community.

Community Empowerment: Reddingakaffi empowers the Reykjavík community by providing the tools and resources needed for self-sufficiency and engagement. By facilitating repair events, we enable community members to take an active role in reducing waste and enhancing the longevity of their possessions.

Collaboration: We collaborate with local organizations and stakeholders, including community centers and environmental groups, to ensure that our project aligns with and supports existing community initiatives. This collaborative approach strengthens community bonds and aligns with the broader goals of Reykjavík City. Reddingakaffi is fully committed to upholding the principles outlined in Reykjavík City's Human Rights Policy. Our dedication to equal access, inclusivity, non-discrimination, transparency, data protection, sustainability, community empowerment, and collaboration reflects our alignment with the human rights values that Reykjavík City holds dear. We are proud to be an active contributor to building a more equitable and inclusive Reykjavík community.
