

Hvatasjóður educational fund open for applications

Hvatasjóður educational fund is now open for applications. The fund is a cooperation between Reykjavik University and Landsbankinn Iceland. The aim is to secure equality for high school graduates students who hold a another first language than Icelandic to study at undergraduate level at Reykjavik University.

The fund is established on the global goals of the United Nations especially the fourth objective; Education for all stating that equal access to good education must be guaranteed for all and opportunities for everyone to study must be supported.

Modern teaching methods, project-based learning, strong connection with the business world and participation in research is one of the characteristics of RU. There is an emphasis on good facilities for students, excellent communication between teachers and students and good service.

We encourage those applicable to familiarise themselves with the wide range of courses available at RU and apply for the grant which includes the cancellation of school fees and a grant to buy a computer.

Applications shall be sent to atvinnulif@ru.is, marked „Hvatasjóður“.

The following documents must be included with the application:

- Introduction letter (maximum 500 words)
- Recommendation letter from a teacher or career and guidance counsellors
- Overview of academic career

Application deadline is until May 10th 2023.
