The project

Project title: Brushes of Peace: Children Paint for Gaza

Short project description (max 255 characters): Empower children with 'Art for Peace,' a project teaching the importance of global citizenship, peace, empathy, and compassion.

The project's goal (max 1100 characters): This project has several positive outcomes: Educational: Youngsters are taught the values of global citizenship, peace, empathy, and helping those in need. Artistic Development: Participants explore their creative potential and use art as a medium for self-expression. Community Engagement: The project brings together the community to appreciate and support the efforts of these young artists. Humanitarian Aid: The proceeds from the art sales will directly benefit vulnerable children and families in Gaza.

Project description (max 1650 characters): Our project, "Brushes of Peace: Children Paint for Gaza," is designed to engage children in the creation of artwork that not only allows them to express themselves but also teaches the importance of peace and care for vulnerable peers. The core objective of this initiative is to foster a sense of empathy and global citizenship among young participants. Activities: Artwork Creation: Children, aged 8 to 15, will be invited to create paintings that reflect their perceptions of peace, unity, and care for others. Through art, they will learn to convey their emotions and thoughts on these important themes. Guidance and Education: Trained art instructors and facilitators will guide the children through the creative process. They will also provide brief educational sessions on the significance of peace, compassion, and the challenges faced by their peers in Gaza.

Exhibition: The artwork produced by the children will be showcased in a local art exhibition, inviting parents, community members, and supporters to view the pieces. This serves as an opportunity for children to share their work and their newfound understanding of peace and compassion. Fundraising: The paintings will be available for sale during the exhibition. All proceeds from the art sales will be collected to support vulnerable peers in Gaza. Community Involvement: Local volunteers and organizations will be engaged to help organize the exhibition and promote the project within the community. They will also help in coordinating the donation process.

Human Rights Policy

I reviewed the Human Rights Policy of the City of Reykjavík: ✓

How does the project align with the Human Rights Policy?: Right to Expression and Participation: Our project empowers children to express their thoughts and feelings through art, providing them with a platform for creative expression and participation in the community. This reinforces their right to freedom of expression, as stated in the policy. Non-Discrimination and Inclusion: We actively promote diversity and inclusivity by involving children of diverse backgrounds and abilities in our project. By encouraging empathy and understanding, we contribute to the policy's goals of non-discrimination and inclusion. Children's Rights: We recognize and respect children's rights, as emphasized in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, which the City of Reykjavík endorses. Our project encourages their active participation, well-being, and development. Solidarity and Compassion: By donating the proceeds to vulnerable peers in Gaza, we embody the principles of solidarity and compassion as outlined in the policy. We foster a sense of social responsibility and global citizenship among the young participants. Education and Awareness: Our project includes educational sessions on the importance of peace, compassion, and understanding. This aligns with the policy's emphasis on human rights education and awareness. Community Engagement: We engage the local community, bringing together individuals, organizations, and volunteers to support the project. This fosters a sense of belonging and community, in line with the policy's objectives.
