Dear Eva,

I trust this email finds you well. I'm writing to reconnect the city of Reykjavik as you are part of the Cities Coalition for Digital Rights.

As you know, the Cities Coalition for Digital Rights is a collaborative effort among cities worldwide to uphold digital rights, foster digital inclusion, and advocate for ethical and equitable digital policies. Our coalition strives to create a platform where cities can share best practices, collaborate on policy development, and collectively address the challenges arising from the digital age.

While Reykjavik is already a valued member of our coalition, we're eager to rekindle this engagement and explore how Reykjavik can take a more active role within the coalition.

We believe that your city has a pivotal role to play in shaping our collective efforts towards advancing digital rights and inclusion.

If you are interested, we could schedule a brief meeting to discuss potential strategies for increased involvement and collaboration.

In the meanwhile, if you are interested in subscribing to the Cities Coalition for Digital Rights' newsletter to hear about our news and events, please let us know so we can add you to our mailing list.

Thank you for your attention to this matter, and we look forward to reigniting our collaboration.

Warm regards,

Davi Beltrão Rossiter
